The Smile

I used to work in this old junk n stuff shop in Colorado. There were these sounds that came from the back room but I never really paid any attention to them until one day. I was walking to the counter when BANG! Something crashed in the back room. I went to check it out and sure enough, a box was lying on the ground. I looked inside and there were smashed glasses. I looked at the window and a face peered in. The face never left my mind. there was a smile, not a cheery smile but a dark, evil smile.

Bird Attack

As I was travelling over the United Kingdom in 1998...

I can never shake off the idea of what happened while flying in a plane. After that day I never flew again. A flock of whooper swans were planning on migrating through the path of the plane.

As we took off turbulence kicked in and almost made me throw up.

I gazed out of the window and watched as we slowly escalated into the air.

I saw the swans before they struck.

One got caught in the engine and I saw fire as we fell.

I survived the crash, no one else did.

Why is the website called bytestories.com?

This is a place for "byte-sized" stories and there is a 1500 character (about 250 words) limit for two main reasons. Firstly, we want you to know that "War and Peace" isn't required to leave your mark. Secondly, it takes about 2 minutes to read each story meaning you can head here whenever you want a quick (and entertaining) read.

If you would like to share a story or create your own eBook, simply head to bytestories.com, Register an account and click on the "Share a Story" button.
